

2012 LPSCW Member of the Year – Kim Starr

Kim Starr has never worked at a law firm, but she has built solid relationships with members of the legal community over the past two decades. Kim is the Vice President of the Legal Division at Drake & Company, a locally-owned staffing firm and family business (her mother Leanne Starr started the business back in 1978, and her sister Kelly Starr-King is currently the CEO).

Kim's membership with Legal Personnel of South Central Wisconsin (LPSCW) began in 1998. She is entering her 2nd year as Education Director and she has chaired the LPSCW Scholarship Committee for many years.

As head of the Program Committee, Kim has had much success in contributing to the monthly meetings by arranging for various guest speakers. Kim also enjoys assisting with the preparations for LPSCW Installation and Member Recognition night.

As a member of the LPSCW Membership Committee during the 2008-09 year, Kim sent out 134 handwritten cards to outstanding performers in the legal industry. She cares deeply about LPSCW, and she does whatever is needed to get the word out about the organization.

Recently, Kim was invited to serve as a judge for the 2011 'Unsung Heroes' celebration held in Milwaukee and sponsored by the Wisconsin Law Journal. This event honored the professionals that help the legal industry thrive in the Madison and Milwaukee areas.

Kim has been married to her husband Kane for nearly 21 years, and she has a 16 year old daughter (Sedona) and a gentle, giant black lab (Benji). The three of them spend almost every weekend at their cabin enjoying bonfires, wildlife, hiking, and Lake Louie beer.
